

Rev. Dr. Kevin Austin is the Director of the Set Free Movement, an international non-profit organization that seeks to end modern slavery, and create new futures for at-risk communities around the world today. He is also an adjunct faculty at Seattle Pacific University and the author of Set Free: A Guide to Pursuing Liberation in the age of Bondage (Light + Life Publications: 2019).

Kevin is an internationally celebrated leader in justice work with more than 20 years of cross-cultural experience, including serving as a Free Methodist missionary in Thailand for seven years. He has led workshops and trainings on four continents, reaching thousands of pastors, laypeople, students, and social service providers.

Kevin holds a Bachelor of Arts in Music Composition and English from Seattle Pacific University, A Master's of Divinity from Gordon Conwell Theological Seminary, and a Doctor of Ministry in Leadership from Regent University.

